Wagman Hosted a Summer Version of “Take Your Child to Work Day”

(York, PA) The Wagman Companies (G.A. & F.C. Wagman, Inc. & Wagman Construction, Inc.) hosted a summer version of “Take Your Child to Work Day” on August 5, 2011. Employees were invited to bring their children/grandchildren to work. Older children were welcome to shadow employees for the day and a program for children of all ages was planned from 10am -2 pm.

The first half of the program included an interactive learning session about construction equipment, a presentation featuring history and notable construction projects and an egg drop contest, along with a range of age appropriate activities. At noon, participants regrouped for lunch at the York Revolution Baseball Stadium followed by a behind the scenes tour from a construction perspective (Wagman Construction, Inc. was the construction manager for the York Revolution Professional Baseball’s Sovereign Bank Stadium).
