Wagman Announces Construction of New Addition at PeoplesBank Park

(York, Pa.) Wagman Construction, Inc. is proud to partner with the York Revolution again this year to construct a new seating area, the White Claw Terrace Courtesy of Ace Distributing.

Located at the third-base upper corner, the new deck incorporates the top three rows of sections 25 and 26 and will incorporate general admission seating with a relaxed yet festive feel, complete with food, local and craft beers.

Designed by Murphy & Dittenhafer Architects, the new addition features a wood-like deck with drink rails.

This marks the third project that Wagman has partnered with the York Revolution. Wagman completed the preconstruction and construction for the stadium when it opened in 2007. In 2019, Wagman completed extensive renovations to the skybox level including the new 1741 Club Presented by UPMC, designed by Murphy and Dittenhafer Architects.

“We feel very fortunate to have such great resources right here in the York area who want to partner with us time and time again to improve the products we offer to York area residents,” states Revolution President Eric Menzer.

Lisa Wagman Glezer, Senior Vice President of Wagman adds, “We always enjoy the opportunity to work together with community partners and this project brought our friends at the York Revolution, Murphy and Dittenhafer Architects and John H. Myers together to work on a project that will be enjoyed by many in our local community.”

Construction began on the White Claw Terrace Courtesy of Ace Distributing shortly before Governor Wolf suspended non-essential business operations due to COVID-19. Construction will resume when permitted.
