Amy Young Recognized as a 2020 Woman of Influence

(York, Pa.) Wagman is proud to announce that Amy Young, Director of Business Development for Wagman Construction, Inc., has been named a 2020 Woman of Influence by the Central Penn Business Journal. This year's event was held virtually on Monday, June 22. The Women of Influence awards recognize women in leadership positions throughout the central PA region who are influential in their companies, industries and communities. They are leaders who have helped build businesses and nonprofits.

"We congratulate Amy along with all of the other Women of Influence honorees," said Lisa Wagman Glezer, Senior Vice President of Wagman. "Amy came to Wagman with a background as a Nursing Home Administrator who managed construction projects and now uses that experience to help our health care and senior living clients who are planning their own construction projects. She has a wonderful gift of making connections and building relationships. We are thrilled to see Amy be recognized for her leadership, dedication and integrity both in our company and our community."

In her role at Wagman Construction, Amy serves on the Senior Leadership Team and is the company secretary. Additionally, she has served on boards for various organization over the last 10 years. Most recently, Amy is the Board Chair for DreamWrights Center for Community Arts and the current chair on Diakon's Youth Development Council. She was honored in 2010 with the Fellow in Leadership by LeadingAge Pennsylvania, which honors 20 leaders in the state to participate in a leadership program designed to equip senior living leaders to lead aging service organizations into the future.

Wagman is a multi-faceted construction firm with major operations in heavy civil, general construction, and geotechnical construction services. Founded in 1902, Wagman is a fourth generation, family-owned company with offices in Pennsylvania and Virginia and is headquartered in York, Pa. As a full-service general contractor, Wagman Construction facilitates growth and development in senior living, healthcare, higher education, urban, institutional and industrial markets in central Pennsylvania, Virginia & Maryland.
