Wagman Receives 2024 TQI Diversity Award from Associated Pennsylvania Constructors

(York, PA) Wagman, Inc. was selected as a recipient of the 2024 TQI Diversity Award from the Associated Pennsylvania Constructors (APC). The winners were celebrated during the opening session of the 2024 APC Fall Seminar, held in Hershey, PA, on Thursday, November 21.

The winners were chosen for advancing diversity and fostering a culture of inclusion within their workforce, business processes and in the communities they serve. Both private and public sector organizations were eligible for the award.

Lisa Wagman Glezer, President of Wagman, Inc. states, “We are excited and proud to receive this recognition from APC. We value the diverse identities, experiences, perspectives, backgrounds, capabilities and talents that our people bring to the team and have been intentionally growing our diversity and inclusion programming. Learning from diverse experiences and perspectives and celebrating together is moving our people and industry forward in positive ways.”

In alignment with the company’s core values and DEI policy, Wagman works to attract diverse candidates and provides training, programming and celebrations to embrace differences, diverse backgrounds and perspectives for the 500+ employees. Wagman connects females within the company for support and opportunities for both professional and personal growth with the “Women at Wagman” group. A longtime employer of minorities, Wagman provides essential company information in both English and in Spanish, supported by bilingual supervision, safety and human resources personnel. Wagman works with community partners to provide resources for veterans, blacks, and Latinos in addition to company planned activities.

Wagman is a multi-faceted construction firm with major operations in heavy civil, general construction, and geotechnical construction services. Founded in 1902, Wagman is a fourth generation, family-owned company with offices in Pennsylvania and Virginia and is headquartered in York, PA.
